Brexit, agreement reached and Boris Johnson rejoices

EN, 25.12.2020 [ENA]

Brexit, agreement reached and Boris Johnson rejoices: "full political and economic independence and no longer a satellite of Europe". Also outside Erasmus. The real winner is him, the British premier has in fact kept all the promises addressed to the British with the referendum of 2016.

Brexit, agreement reached and Boris Johnson rejoices. The real winner is him, the British premier has in fact kept all the promises addressed to the British with the referendum of 2016 and with the elections of last year: We have regained control of our money, borders, laws, trade and our fishing waters. Fantastic news for families and businesses in GB. From 1 January we will have full political and economic independence. Also guaranteed that Great Britain is no longer the satellite of the European Union, no longer tied to the EU rules, the European Court of Justice will no longer have a role and that we have achieved all the objectives we set for the return of the sovereignty.

A system for immigration control will give us back total control of whoever enters the country and the end of the free movement of people. The agreement protects our internal market by enjoying the advantages for us as an independent country, with trade agreements with other partners around the world. And with the cancellation of Erasmus, our students will finally be able to study in all universities in the world and not only in Europe ", quotes Johnson's statement from 10 Downing Street.
